

11/05/2020 - Measuring the terrace as apron parking space - 2h

Category: 2.9. Wing mating

Published: Friday, 21 August 2020 04:53

Hits: 820

Today I have been measuring a lot and drawing different scenario's on the terrace floor to find the ideal angle to put the plane.

Most important was manoeuvring space around but also having it in a safe location so that people won't bump into it by accident when they visit me.

The blue lines show the final decision. Tomorrow, my stepfather will come over to move it out and allow it to smell some fresh air for the first time.

